Driver Fined For Towing A Motorcycle

Andrew Stewart, 1 Metcalf st., Medford, was found guilty of violation of the motor law and fined $10 in Third District Court Monday morning.

Stewart had allegedly bought a motorcycle in Waltham and attached it to a car by means of a ten foot rope, to be towed to his home in Medford. While proceeding down the Concord Turnpike in Arlington, State Police Officer John Murphy stopped the two vehicles, as the motorcycle had no registration plate. Stewart reportedly tried to explain his position. The officer informed him he was violating the Motor Vehicle Law and booked him.

In Court Monday morning Judge Louis L. Green heard the case and with what appeared to be "When is a motor vehicle not a motor vehicle", the question to be answered, fined Stewart and gave him the right of appeal, which he accepted.

Both men were taken to the station where it was later learned they had been the pair who had broken into a junk yard building in Wilmington, Mass. A large amount of automobile accessories were found in the rear of the car.

Flim Flam Fools You, Watch Out!

Sunday night two Arlington business men were hoodwinked by one of the oldest types of frauds ever used in this country, according to Police Officials.

The "Flim Flam" racket, or brother have you got two dimes for a nickel. This type of chiseling is usually perpetrated by two or three men who operate their racket in "busy" gasoline stations or roadside stands.

One man goes in and asks the attendant to change a ten dollar bill and makes a purchase of an item not more than a dollar or so. Unwittingly the attendant will take the bill, which had been marked in the corner with a penciled number.

A few minutes later a second man comes in and makes another dollar purchase getting a ten changed; Then the third man enters and makes a dollar purchase and leaves. However, in a matter of minutes the third man is back and claims that he made a mistake and gave the man a ten. Then he tells the attendant the bill had some penciled figures on it and names them. The attendant looks in his pocket and sure enough there is the marked bill which he returns to the supposed owner with apologies.

It is not until a half hour later that he realizes he has been a victim to the fraud of petty thieves and calls the police. Sunday night a net profit of $20 was realized by just such thieves in this town.

Chief Bullock warns all business men to be careful of this so called "Flim Flam" racket, you never know when or where they will strike next.

Police Pick Up Escapce

Sunday evening a man sitting in a parked car in Arlington Heights aroused the suspicions of Sgt. James Ryan, officers Henry Bradley and Charles Sewall, who were riding in the cruiser.

The suspicions of the officers were further aroused when on approaching the car they discovered it was rented from a U-Drive-It concern in Memphis Tenn. They attempted to question the occupant but received nothing but evasive answers.

The man was taken to the station where it was discovered he was an escapee from the Metropolitan State Hospital in Waltham.

In the rear of the car officers found a number of plastic rain coats and two leather jackets. The man was turned over to authorities of the Hospital for return here and the car was held pending information regarding it.

Waring To Head Welch Com.

Appointment of Lloyd B. Waring former chairman of the Republican State Committee, as his campaign manager was announced today by Robert H. W. Welch, Jr., of Belmont, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

Waring, who headed the Massachusetts GOP in 1947-48, said he would start forming at once, a city and town committee to work for Welch's nomination.

According to Waring, Welch's candidacy is in line with the Republican State Committee's present policy of seeking "new faces" for this year's ticket. He explained that Welch, a prominent Cambridge candy manufacturer, is a newcomer to Bay State politics, who believes it's high time for business to have a voice in managing the Commonwealth's affairs on Beacon Hill.

Active for many years in civic and political circles, Waring is a former Melrose alderman who headed up Ex-Mayor Carl Raymond's campaign in Melrose when the latter was elected. He is affiliated with Kidder, Peabody & Co., Boston investment bankers.

CANCER —

and of the Dedham Community Council. Last year, she was co-chairman of the Irving Tribute Committee of the Boston Lying-In Hospital. During the War, she was active in the Red Cross Blood Center in Boston. Previously she was a nurse's aid during World War I at Collis P. Huntington Memorial Hospital for cancer, which led to her taking an active interest in the fight to conquer cancer.

In accepting his post as Greater Boston Chairman, Mr. Capper stated, "It is a privilege to be asked to help lead the war against cancer. The people of Greater Boston, I am sure, will cooperate to the fullest possible extent in the cancer drive since their stake in the campaign is so important. Here in Greater Boston are some of the world's leading centers of cancer research. Among them, the Massachusetts General Hospital, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Harvard, Tufts, and Boston University Medical Schools, and many others."

Both Mrs. Stone and Mr. Capper explained that the cancer drive is being conducted to raise funds for research and education against man's most feared disease. The goal in Massachusetts is $530,166. They pointed out that the cancer is the second ranking cause of death in the nation and here in Massachusetts, some 8,500 persons are expected to die of it in 1950. On the basis of progress already made in research, however, scientists believe that the conquest of cancer now lies within the foreseeable future.

"Look To G. E. For The Finest"

were no long debates and more articles were motioned and passed than in last year's first session.

The first thing on the agenda was committee reports, among which was the Daniel P. Barry Memorial Committee. They asked for a favorable vote on their article which calls for a plaque to be erected in the square at the corner of Warren and Medford sts.

A vote on this will be taken up at the next meeting. The Mystic school committee reported and announced in three weeks an open house will be held for the Townspeople to view the new school. The East Arlington Library committee was next to report and they asked that a site be selected and purchased by the town and a new building be erected for the library. The Hardy School Committee was the last to report with a progress announcement on what was being done in the way of alterations at the school. The building will be completely alternated by July 1st.

With the committees out of the way, the meeting got to the business of the articles of the warrant. In short order Articles one through six were passed and then came the fireworks. Article Seven was put on the floor, having to do with the changes in the pay classifications of various Town employees. Sections one through nine were voted and on the tenth section, having to do with a raise for the Assistant Superintendent of Public Works and other members of the department, John Murphy, head of the Department took the floor and denounced the Personnel board for asking for these increases. He claimed the men were not worth it and if the department thought they were, it would ask for the raise. He then asked the Town Meeting members to vote no action be taken on the tenth and following three sections.

Mr. Arthur Mansfield took the floor in defense of the Personnel Board. He began his speech but was soon interrupted by cat calls from the floor and balcony after making reference to certain actions of one of the men of the Public Works Dpt. The motion was then voted on and unanimously defeated as far as the Personnel was concerned.

The pay raises of the Fire and Police officials were then taken up and passed. It granted a raise of $348 per annum to Deputy Chiefs and Police Lieutenants and the Assistant Superintendent of the Fire and Police Signal Division. A raise of $120 was given to Police Sergeants and Fire Lieutenants, then $109 to the Fire Captains and the head librarian.

The forty hour week was then put on the agenda and passed with out a negative vote along with the following article, the budget. The last Article of the night was put before the members, the $8000 for the Patriot's Day committee and it was passed unanimously. A motion to adjourn was made and passed and Mr. Magnuson declared the meeting in recess until Wednesday night at 8:00 p.m.

STICKS And BLADES

By FRANK MAHONEY

The age old argument which is the better team, Boston University or Boston College, was settled at the NCAA Tourney in Colorado Springs, this past week. Everyone will agree Colorado is the better of the teams.

This, however, does not mean that Colorado hockey players are better than our own New England boys. Remember, most of the Colorado goals scored by lads from Belmont, Cambridge and Boston respectively.

The question, however, is not whom did they lose to, but how did it happen. In the words of one of the B.U. players, "It was the thin Colorado air." The lines could only play for a few minutes at a time and if they didn't score the winning goal in the first period, and then play a holding game, victory was out of the question.

Boston University, although having taken a terrific beating at the hands of Colorado, did play the most magnificent hockey game of the year against Michigan. This was some consolation, for in beating Michigan, one might say, they indirectly defeated Colorado. Michigan defeated Colorado three different times during the regular mid-western season.

Boston College had tough luck: Not only did they drop their opener to Colorado but then blew a consolation game to Michigan the resultant raising the big question on the home front, if B.U. beat Michigan and B.C. lost to Michigan, who then, is the better team. So we start all over again, but not until next season.

All of the facts in the preceding paragraphs are common knowledge by this time. But, are all the facts as to why both teams lost known? I don't think so. There is one big reason why B. C. went down to defeat in both of their games. They were plain tired out. If this should sound like a hum excuse, then I advise you to take a long plane ride sometime and tell me how you feel after you get off. If you're not dog-tired, I'll eat my shirt.

Now, Boston U. can't use this excuse for they had a rest after arriving in Colorado, but what about the question of thin air. There's something in that. Then after winning their game with Michigan, their spirits were mighty high, but the combination of thin air, rotten officiating and playing the toughest team after a hard rough and tumble fight with Michigan, all proved too much for the fighting terriers.

All this was not lost though. The All American selection committee picked Ike Bevins, B.U. captain and goalie, to tend the nets for the All American team. Warren Lewis of B. C. was picked as a lineman for the All Star team, by that committee. Both boys are from Arlington and deserve all the praise and honor that the Town can bestow upon them. They have been a credit to their community as well as outstanding representatives of Arlington's Sportsmen for the past four years of their College career. It is with a felling of joy and sadness they leave their colleges this year, but the spirit of friendly combat and argument they helped to create will remain behind them, probably forever.

TEA IS CHEAPER IN CHINA

Likewise coal and oil for making electricity are cheaper in West Virginia and Texas where they are produced.

When these fuels are shipped long distances to New England the transportation costs become a factor in electric rates, naturally.

But good management and advanced engineering have met this problem so successfully that electricity, like tea, is an outstanding bargain in the New England household budget.

WATER POWER Our water power resources have been developed intensively, but the bulk of New England's electricity must be steam generated because, except in Maine, there just isn't enough water power.

"Irish Night" Crowds Crosby P.T.A. Program

Standing room only was the situation recently when the Crosby School P.T.A. had its Irish Night program, one of the Brotherhood series. The response was one of the most gratifying yet experienced by the Association, which is endeavoring to lessen racial prejudice by increasing understanding. Many people outside the Crosby group were made welcome.

Mrs. Raymond McKeever presided at the meeting, dressed in Irish costume. Mr. James A. Kelley, Traveler staff reporter, showed movies in color that he made in Ireland, and gave a commentary on the pictures.

One of the highlights was the inspiring talk by Rev. Conall O'Leary, O.F.M., of St. Anthony's Shrine in Boston. He cited the famous Father Flanagan, founder of Boy's Town, as exemplifying the best of Irish qualities and of practicing brotherhood with a genuine sincere spirit. As everyone knows, all boys are welcome in Boy's Town, regardless of race, color or creed. It was interesting to learn that Boy's Towns have been or are being set up in Japan, Germany and Italy to help war orphans find a good way of life.

The Misses Linda Beal and Eleanor Joblonski danced an Irish jig in costume and were brought back for an encore. Mr. Ralph O'Neil, accompanied by Mrs. O'Neil, sang a medley of familiar Irish songs and invited the audience to join him. A wonderful touch of appropriate atmosphere was provided by the playing of accordions, before and after the meeting, by Mr. Timothy Clifford and Francis Mee. Tryder's the florist, provided a beautiful and elaborate floral piece. There was an interesting display of linen dolls, china, figurines and shamrocks. Prominently displayed was the Irish flag, and large shamrocks decorated the walls. The refreshments of ice cream and cakes were decorated appropriately and were provided and served by the Irish committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Helen Doyle. Mrs. Dahill was assistant to the chairman. The Committee included Mesdames Donnelly, Coleman, Coughlin, Simpson, Hanley, Mullen Burnham, O'Connell, Duggan, Green, Hines, Regan, Aiken, Horan, Foley, Kuhn, Kemp, Mee, Lawler, O'Brien, Grath, Kneeland, McKeever, Mona-

Entertainment was furnished by Joe Barry of Arlington and Mr. Duffy and Mr. Cunningham of Lowell, and Mrs. Gertrude Dunbury of Belmont. Boy's Club Now In Eleventh Season Of Successful Activity

The Arlington Boy's Club Inc., now in its 11th year of continuous operation and its 5th year at its present location at 60 Pond Lane is Arlington's most unique establishment. Unique because it is a club for Boys, and a place where every Arlington boy, regardless of race or creed or family circumstances, really learn of Democracy in action.

The Boy's Club operates on Community Fund money and an Executive Committee of the Board of Directors is responsible for the program which the Arlington Boy's Club maintains under the supervision of James H. Summer, Executive Director and the staff of James Kenealy, Austin Welch, Paul Shea and Clubhouse custodian Laughlin Hingley.

Open an average of 38 hours weekly, the Boys' Club is a welcome refuge for any Arlington boy to spend his spare, after school, time in useful and creative occupation. The 1200 members find something worthwhile in every one of the many departments of the Boys' Club. From athletics to creative crafts a boy learns to become a better citizen in a clean wholesome atmosphere.

Enrollment at the Boys' Club starts with the Midget class at 8 years, next come the Juniors at 10 years, the Intermediate follow at the age of 14 and the Seniors at 17 years. Any Arlington boy willing to abide by the rules may become a member. The fact that the club has increased its membership from year to year testifies to the popularity of the Boys' Club program.

Activities at the club range from basketball, volleyball, wrestling, boxing, and tumbling in a well lighted and spacious gym to ping-pong, pocket billiards, checkers and chess and a wide variety of table games in the separated age group game rooms. Four newly renovated bowling alleys are available for the boys to develop their competitive skill. Lockers, showers and towels are provided for the athletic minded youngsters. Friendly, capable adult supervision is maintained at all times.

During the Fall and Winter Photography, metalcraft, woodworking, leathercraft, string weaving and mimeography are taught under competent instructors and these classes are well attended by the club members. A well equipped kitchen located on the lower level together with a Dining Porch rounds out the Boys' Club physical plant.

While school is out in the summer many club members take advantage of a sojourn at Camp

Wing or Duxbury Stockade located at Duxbury, Mass., and operated by the Boys' & Girls' Camp Inc. Attendance at these camps is open at special rates at all Boys' Clubs in this area. A Day Camp will be operated by the Arlington Boys' Club during July and August of 1950.

After school is underway and running all Fall, Winter and in the Spring, the regular Friday night movie show is the highlight of the week as far as the younger boys of Arlington are concerned. Attendance at Arlington's only regularly scheduled, carefully selected, juvenile show averages 350 club members weekly. Special events at Hall-o-ween, Christmas and Easter and Mother's and Dad's Night are extremely well attended features. The Dad's Club under President Bill Bennett is a great help at the club.

Officers of the Arlington Boys' Club are Walter T. Kenney, President; Charles B. Perham, 1st Vice President; Maurice Sandler, 2nd Vice President; Walter S. Cooleage Jr., Treasurer and A. Harry Ottosen, Secretary.

Members of the Board of Directors are William C. Adams, Nils G. Anderson, Mrs. James A. Bailey, Archie F. Bullock, Harold A. Cahlin, Lester W. Cameron, Bavel L. Cummings, Mrs. Edgar T. Chester, Herbert J. Cronin, Roscoe C. Elliott, Mr. Matthew J. Flaherty, Miss Edith M. Fox, John C. Gill, J. Howard Hayes, Benjamin Hickey, Dr. Stephen G. Jones, Francis Keefe, Bertil Lindvall, Rev. John Nicol Mark, Arthur McAvoy, Robert L. Moore, Thomas R. Rawson, Jr., Walter E. Richardson, Leonard G. Russell, Thomas F. Scanlon, Mrs. Frank Swett, Karl E. Weiss and Russell P. Wise.

Extensive renovations now completed at the Pond Lane Clubhouse have been paid for from money that was granted to the Boys Club by two private Boston Charities and a public spirited individual from a nearby town J. Willard Hayden. It was given specifically for repair work.

Brackett P. T. A. Hears Principal

The monthly meeting of the Brackett School Parent-Teacher Association was held in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening, March 14, 1950.

After a brief business meeting in which a Nominating Committee was appointed for the selection of next year's officers, the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Dorothy E. Lovell who introduced the speaker Mr. Lawrence Mantyla, principal of the Brackett and Locke schools.

Mr. Mantyla gave a very interesting and informative talk on all the aspects of the health and physical education programs in the elementary schools as well as the music program which includes instruction in piano, violin, clarinet and other instruments. He also spoke on the school band and orchestra. Following his talk, the parents were given the opportunity to meet the supervisors of these extra curricular programs.

Refreshments were served by the second grade mothers under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Warren and Mrs. A. D. Dalrymple.

Mothers To Meet Mon.

The pre-school mothers of all PTA groups of Arlington will meet next Monday evening, March 27, 1950, in Robbins Library Hall at eight o'clock.

They will hear Mrs. Harold Berry of Newton discuss "How the Little Child Expresses His Emotion Through Painting".

Mrs. Berny, mother of two grown children, long a student and teacher of Little Folks prepared at Wheelock College and the Nursery Training School of Boston. She is now a faculty member of the Rebecca Pomeroy School of Newton.

Refreshments will be enjoyed during the question period.

Mrs. Samuel R. Carlisle, chairman of the Arlington pre-school PTA groups, will preside. She will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph Copinger, Hardy School; Mrs. David E. Mumez, Cutter School; Mrs. Vincent A. Burns, Barmenter School.

The following were installed:

Boy Scout News

Cub Pack 87 of the Cutter School got a demonstration on one of the uses of charcoal at their first meeting. Mr. Abe "Sav" Savran, commercial artist and popular entertainer, kept a full turnout of Cubs and parents guessing with his art technique and phenomenal inventive power as he took a series of fifteen bits of random scribbling by several Clubs and turned them into funny people, animals, and miscellaneous scenery. Most of the marks made by the boys resembled ruts in a country oad, nests of hibernating snakes, or some of the worst things that happen to pieces escorted by brother Elks who were presented by Esquire George Fitzgibbons.

Chairman Mrs. Margaret McLean, Past District Deputy and past President, together with her co-chairman, Mrs. Edna Sullivan, also past President, are to be complimented on the wonderful work they did in making the evening such a successful one.

of string; but Mr. Savran met every challenge with the ease and adroitness of a man who has looked chaos in the face with a smile.

According to Carl Fryer, chairman of the Cub committee who was responsible for getting Mr. Savran's services for the evening, the artist can even make sense out of women's hats. It was your reporter's impression that Mr. Savran could also work himself out of a straight-jacket and that he was no doubt voted as "doodler most likely to succeed". He even made portraits out of the reporter and out of the number 7, equally difficult subjects.

Several boys received awards during the evening, and certificates for completing a course for Den Mothers were given to Mrs. Don Johnston, Mrs. William Mowat, Mrs. Carl Simonds, and Mrs. Carl Fryer.

Pack 87 is at present working on a rag and paper drive to raise funds. They are also looking forward to participating in the Arlington April 19th parade.

A few weeks ago Pack 87 enjoyed an excursion to the Hood's milk plant, where they saw a modern dairy at work and sampled a variety of products. The trip was arranged by Mr. Edward Poynton.

Pack 87's boxing program is going ahead under the direction of Mr. Bill Fitzpatrick.

Cubmaster Robert Bowser made an appeal to the parents for their continued cooperation. Cub problems were discussed by the central committee as a special meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Mowat. Mrs. Mowat served the committee and the Den Mothers with delicious refreshments.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The office of the Town Selectmen announced Tuesday afternoon, the appointments of Arthur W. Sampsons as Chairman of the Park Department and Henry Abbott, Chairman of the Planning Board.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Mr. Dunbar, Publisher
Arlington Press

Dear Sir:

All of us who had a part in this year's March of Dimes campaign feel that the service done by the PRESS and the other newspapers of the town in publishing the grave need for money to fight polio should not go unthanked.

Your newspaper proved itself a publication devoted to the public interest and the welfare of Arlington. From weeks before the opening of the drive right up to the end, those of us who were interested in the battle against polio found much more than passive cooperation from the PRESS.

I wish personally to thank you and your staff for your fine treatment of March of Dimes publicity materials, and to thank all of those who contributed to the fund for they were the ones who truly spelled the success of our common efforts.

I know that I do not have to thank those who have worked in this 1950 campaign for they must feel as I do — that the good that has been done is sufficient reward for our efforts. I know of no better way that their time might have been spent than in helping those stricken by polio myelitis.

Sincerely yours
William J. Sinclair

ities in order to establish a firm foundation of understanding between the people of those communities and the personnel of their Air Force here at Hanscom Airport. To this end, I would like to extend a cordial invitation to you, the clubs, the schools and the people of your community, to become acquainted with the facilities and the personnel at this base. Further, if we can help anyone with a problem involving Air Force matters or activities at this installation, please feel free to call upon us for assistance.

Our reason for being here is a vital one, that is, to train the members of the Air Force Reserve. As a result of the intense interest and participation of the Air Reservists in this area, Hanscom Airport was selected as one of the few Air Force Training Centers in the country by Headquarters USAF. Many of these Reservists who devote much of their time to the program here at Bedford, and who are aptly termed "Modern Minutemen", are also active members of your community. It is my personal belief that these men represent the highest type of good citizens because they perform a service for their country which is wholly voluntary and for which there is little return in the way of appreciation. They exemplify the spirit which is America; standing in readiness when called upon to serve.

These Reservists who come here weekly and who lie in your town constitutes a bond between us. This can result in a friendship and spirit of cooperation which I firmly believe will bring about a mutual understanding of the problems that confront us.

I am especially interested in fostering the best relations possible with towns in this locality since I am a native of greater Boston. Looking forward to a most harmonious Air Force-Civilian community relationship, I am at your service.

(Signed) M. S. Hollidge

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE MEETS AT HARVARD CLUB

The 26th annual meeting of the International Institute a Red Feather service where people of all nationalities meet one another and learn American ways, will be held next Wednesday evening (March 29) at the Harvard Club of Boston. Relatives and friends of members, as well as any other interested persons, are invited to attend.

Forrester A. "Tim" Clark, recently selected chairman for the 1951 Red Feather Campaign, will be the principal speaker. International Institute is one of the many social services which participate in this annual drive.

During the reception proceeding the dinner, Leo Virkhaue, famed Estonian organist, will play on the great organ in Harvard Hall. Following the dinner and brief business meeting, musical entertainment will be provided by the Polonaise Choral Society, Professor Anthony Nurczynski conducting. Wearing colorful Polish costumes, the 50 members of the Society will sing a medley of Polish folk songs, a spirited polka and a wedding song. One of the finest mixed chorus groups in the city, the Society this spring celebrates its 10th anniversary. Its conductor, Professor Nurczynski, is a graduate of the conservatories of Krakow and Warsaw in Poland.

Virkhaus, who arrived in Boston from a Displaced Persons Camp in Germany only four months ago, is the sixth generation in a family of famous Estonian musicians. Already he has formed a choir in the Boston Estonian Society, which is a member of International Institute. In Europe, Virkhaue was a top-ranking concert and church organist and conductor of choral groups. He resides with his wife and two children at 48 Dwight St., Boston.

A feature of the evening will be talks by four members on what the Institute means to them. These speakers will include Mrs. Stassa Wenzlau, from Greece; Vartges Afrikian, from Iran; Mrs. Sita Paulickpulle Renfrew, from Ceylon; and someone from a Camp in Germany.

The Committee in charge of the meeting is headed by Thomas Temple Pond, and its members include: Mrs. Isabelle Grandin, Miss Katherine H. Johnson, Mrs. J. Philip Lane, Mrs. Araxie LeVin, Miss Patricia Parmelee, Gilbert R. Payson, and Mrs. Morton P. Prine.

Situated at 190 Beacon street, International Institute aids newcomers of every race and creed in the problems which may face them in a new land. Lately its work has increased immeasurably due to the arrival here of thousands of persons displaced from their homelands overseas. More than 15,000 persons each year benefit from the varied services provided, and some 47 nationality organizations, with a membership of more than 3,000 persons, meet regularly at the In-

RED CROSS TRAINS FIRST AID HEROES

Remember newspaper accounts of last summer when swimmers were saved from drowning?

Recall also the terrible tragedies that occur on our highways and the reports of first aid being given at the scene?

The majority of the heroes in these accounts were trained by the Red Cross. Through their skillful emergency training these "on the spot" individuals were able to save a life.

Greatest concentration of training was focused on police and fire departments in Greater Boston. These are the men who see the tragedy first in most cases.

In First Aid and Accident Prevention classes alone last year, 2442 certificates were awarded in 167 police classes and 33 fire department classes.

During the year, 364 classes were conducted for the benefit of 5191 persons who received certificates. In all there were 1790 fore certificates issued last year than the previous year.

First Aid volunteers continued their work at schools, industrial plants, community units, hospitals, at the Boston Common, site of a First Aid building, at docks for ill and injured Displaced Persons arriving here, and at parades and civic events.

Also certified within the year were fishermen, Navy and Coast Guardsmen, Boy and Girl Scouts, and members of various civic organizations.

Through this valuable Red Cross training, Boston was made a safer place to live. So was the rest of the country. The Red Cross first aid program last year trained 400,000 persons throughout the nation.

Another annual record broken by the Red Cross was in its Water Safety program. In the Boston Metropolitan area, 9015 persons received Red Cross certificates as swimmers, life savers or water safety instructors. The total exceeded by 500 the mark set in the preceding year.

In conjunction with the Humane Society of Massachusetts, the Water Safety service instructed an additional 2173 swimmers and prepared 17 Red Cross trained instructors for the society's summer camps.

School authorities, Park Department directors, Boy's and Girl's organizations, including the Scouts, the YMCA and YWCA are only a few of the groups that took advantage of Red Cross' movement for safety and sanity in water sports.

On a nationwide scale almost 680,000 met the qualifications for certificates. Progress? Yes. But next year it will be even bigger.

Look at the record from another phase, the remarkable progress of stitute. Active in the Institute are the following residents of Arlington: Col. Sarkis M. Zartarian, member of the Board of Directors, Mrs. John B. Sundlie and Miss Aferdita Athanas, of the Institute Advisory Councils, Miss Gertrude Sundlie, past president of the Norwegian Group, Mrs. Bernice Cleveland, president of the Baltic American Society of New England, Mrs. Mary C. Ferreira, president of the Grémio das Senhoras Portuguesas, and Mrs. George M. Larri, president of the Syrian Women's Club of Boston.

the Home Nursing program. Here the Red Cross is making rapid and progressing strides and one day will reach its goal...having one member of the family trained in the art of caring for the sick.

Courses continually were scheduled and attended throughout the Greater Boston territory. In 214 classes, 2931 persons were in Unit I. Care of the Sick, and Unit II. Mother and Baby Care and Family Health. Of these 2544 were certified.

Last year's program marked an advance of 200 certificates over the previous year and 500 over the 1946-47 fiscal year.

In the nation-wide program, men, women and young people receiving home nursing certificates totaled 126,849. Think how many nurses were relieved for duties where the need was greater?

Remember some of the nation's epidemics and disasters which struck paralyzing blows last year? In the background, working quietly but effectively, was one of Red Cross' agencies. Nurses Enrollment which recruited and dispatched trained nurses to periled areas.

By maintaining a personnel roster of nurses, now totalling 1112, this Red Cross agency is able to interview quickly women for serving in disaster or epidemic. The number enrolled as Red Cross nurses last year was 84.

Should a disaster strike here, the nurses of Greater Boston would be called to serve and the disaster preparedness plans for the fullest utilization of nursing service for those who would need this help.

These records are gratifying. They will continue to grow. But they are dependent on your contribution to the $1,244,764 fund cam-
